Designing Statement Pieces for Life and Style.

OUR VISION

At Jaye Remy Design, every piece is created to be more than furniture. Each piece is meant to transform natural materials into a statement to elevate the everyday.

The ArborLure Collection extends this vision. This jewelry and accessory brand transforms nature's beauty into adornments you carry with you.

We believe art should live and be with you.

Together, our two expressions share one purpose: to craft pieces that enriches both your spaces and your story.

Born and raised in Los Angeles, we are committed to bringing craftsmanship back to our community. We want to celebrate creativity, representation, and timeless

WHAT WE DO

Designing Statement Pieces for Life and Style.

Custom Furniture Design & Build – Bespoke tables, shelving, partitions, and statement pieces designed to elevate homes, restaurants, and creative spaces.

One-of-a-Kind Installations – Sculptural builds such as shelving systems, library walls, and custom partitions. Each installation is created with safety and durability as top priorities, backed by warranties that go beyond the norm. As a local business, we stand behind our work in a way larger companies can't—you not only own a piece from a Los Angeles crafter, you know the craftsman personally.

Personalized Consultations – From wood selection to design options, we guide clients through every step to ensure their piece reflects both function and artistry.

Wearable Art – Jewelry from ArborLure: nature-inspired adornments crafted from premium woods and finished by hand for minimalist yet statement style.

MEET THE TEAM

JEREMY A. WALKER

Founder | Furniture Maker & Lead Craftsman

Jeremy has always been hands-on, drawn to working with tools and materials. After completing his apprenticeship and becoming a journeyman in the sheet metal trade, he gained the skills and confidence to see his longtime woodworking hobby as something more. What began as a personal passion grew into being the founder of a business rooted in precision, durability, and creativity. Along the way, Jeremy noticed how few African Americans were represented in the trades, motivating him to focus on craftsmanship that merges technical skill with artistry to create bespoke furniture and functional art—pieces designed for safety, strength, and sculptural beauty.

MEET THE TEAM

ERIN M. WALKER

Managing Partner & Operations Director | Arborlure Designer

Erin has always been drawn to problem-solving and helping others learn. With over 15 years in Information Technology and Learning & Development, she built a career in program management that also gave her exposure to marketing along the way. Her ability to adapt and her aptitude for learning positioned her to take on the role of Managing Partner and majority owner of Jaye Remy Design, with the goal of pursuing certification as a women-owned business. As majority owner, Erin is committed to growing a business alongside her husband that supports their family and invests back into the community. By combining her professional experience with her passion for design, she plays a key role in establishing Jaye Remy Design and ArborLure as lasting brands.

Outside of the workshop, Erin and Jeremy enjoy travel, fitness, and wine tasting, music and performing arts. They share a passion for volunteer work in both teaching and construction. These shared values of dedication, creativity, and service influence the integrity of every piece they create.

THE JRD ADVANTAGE

Why Choose Us

By becoming part of the Jaye Remy Design or ArborLure family, you are investing in something that will last. You're not just buying furniture or jewelry, you're choosing handcrafted pieces that carry meaning and intention.

Each creation begins with respect for craftsmanship, a love of natural materials, and a desire to bring modern design, character, and quality into daily life. Our commitment goes beyond beauty. Every piece is built with durability and safety at its core, ensuring your investment is not only striking but enduring. We also stand behind every piece we create.

Our commitment doesn't end with delivery: clients also benefit from exclusive services such as annual tabletop refinishing, keeping their investment looking timeless for years to come. While we are a new small business, we have already shown that we deliver work that elevates creativity. With your support, we will continue to honor community and stand out as a testament to true craftsmanship.

THE PORTFOLIO

Functional Art. Sculptural Modern..

At Jaye Remy Design, also known simply as JRD, every piece is designed to have sculptural elements that are still practical, modern yet timeless. From custom dining tables to architectural shelving and partitions, our work is crafted to bring character, durability, and elegance into everyday living.

Looking ahead, JRD will expand into new mediums and additional home accessories, continuing to merge artistry with innovation. Rooted in craftsmanship and elevated by design, JRD reflects our belief that furniture should be more than useful, it should be unforgettable.

HEXAGON CAT SHELVES

Modular design that's as functional for pets as it is sculptural for the home.

Sculptural yet functional, the hexagon shelves were designed as part of a three-piece project that included a cat bookcase and a storage bench. Their modular shape allowed us to create a wall display that worked for both cats and their owners. Each hexagon can be customized with or without cutout holes—serving as either a playful climbing structure for pets or a striking shelving system for any home.

FUNCTIONAL DISPLAY SHELVES

A custom pathway that blends play, display, and architectural flow.

Created alongside the hexagon shelves, the cat stairs were designed to let our clients' cats navigate the walls with ease. The stairs lead to a catwalk that connects to the hexagons, forming a complete pathway for exploration. Beyond function, the owners wanted the stairs to double as shelving for their collectibles, making them both practical and sculptural.

EXTENDED LIBRARY SHELVES

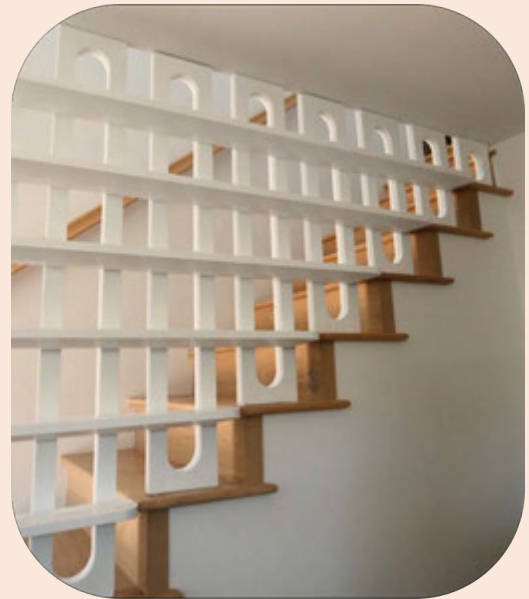

Seamless craftsmanship that expands storage while preserving original character.

Our clients wanted to expand their existing library in a way that felt natural and intentional. The challenge was to match the existing wood and design so the new section looked as though it had always belonged. Through careful selection and craftsmanship, we created a seamless extension that adds storage and beauty without disrupting the original character.

STAIRCASE PARTITION

A functional divider reimagined as a sculptural statement.

Our clients wanted a way to divide their space without closing it off completely. The solution was a custom staircase partition that adds both structure and artistry to the home. Designed to provide a sense of separation while still allowing light and openness, the piece blends seamlessly with the architecture.

Crafted with precision, the partition highlights clean lines and natural wood tones, transforming what could have been a purely functional divider into a sculptural statement.

MADONNA WRITING TABLE

A bespoke desk designed to inspire creativity and elegance.

The Madonna Writing Table built using Maple and White Oak with Brass inlay reflects our client's vision, realized through thoughtful design and craftsmanship

O'LEE OUTDOOR TABLE

Crafted for gathering, built to last in beauty and strength.

The O'Lee Farm Table was designed using Ipawood because of its durability for outdoor use to bring family and friends together, crafted to last outdoors while maintaining beauty.

THE ARBORLURE COLLECTION

Earth's Grain. Elevated Allure.

ArborLure was born from two inspirations: Arboreal (of the trees) and Allure (timeless elegance). The name reflects the purpose of this JRD Collection: to transform natural wood grain into jewelry that is minimalist yet statement, grounded yet refined.

The story begins when Erin, who always loved wooden jewelry, took a local jewelry class to repair a bracelet inherited from her mother. That experience sparked the idea of repurposing leftover wood from Jeremy's workshop into earrings she had long searched for but could never find. What started as earrings quickly grew into a collection encompassing all things nature and earth inspired—from statement earrings to bracelets, and soon, additional jewelry and accessories for men.

Looking ahead, ArborLure's dream will be to expand to include a Luxe collection: a fine jewelry line that introduces more semi-precious stones and metals, bringing earth's elegance into even more elevated forms.
